1. Section 1. Operations: Significant Activities.

a. (C) General. This report covers the period 1 February through 30 April 1969, and is submitted in accordance with AR 525-15, USARV Regulation 525-15. During the report period the mission of the 268th Combat Aviation Battalion continued to be to provide aviation support to Free World Military Assistance Forces in the II Corps Tactical Zone as directed. This support was mainly provided in Pleiku, Binh Dinh, Phu Bon and Phu Yen Provinces.

b. (U) Personnel. An infusion program was started in the newly arrived 238th Aerial Weapons Company to eliminate the rotational hump in March of 70. However, further infusion of the Battalion may be necessary to reduce the rotational hump of March 1970 at Battalion level.

(4) Unit Strength appears as Inclosure.I.

c. (C) Intelligence: LZ English, the location of the 61st, was mortared three times resulting in eleven aircraft damaged and three destroyed. The repair and replacement time due to enemy action against the 61st has caused the Battalion to overcommit other units to pick up the 61st missions. The result has been high flying time and an increase in maintenance problems and crew member fatigue. Aircraft of the Battalion have been hit by hostile fire 46 times with 6 aircraft destroyed by ground fire. The Battalion has been credited with 80 KBA. During the latter part of the reporting period the enemy reinforced Phu Yen and Khanh Hoa Province with a Regiment size force estimated at 1500 troops. In the northern part of the AO the enemy has tried to avoid contact but has greatly increased his use of mines and booby traps.

SUBJECT: Operational Report of 268th Combat Aviation Battalion for Period Ending 30 April 1969, ROK CSFOR-65 (RI) (U)

(1) Units of the Battalion engaged in combat operations each of the 89 days of the report period. Two major combat airmobile assaults were conducted by the battalion during this period as shown below:

Date	Supported Unit	Aircraft Employed	Sorties	Cargo Hauled	Troops Lifted
2 Feb 69	Tiger Div	73	1,822	307.9 Tons	3,734
2 Apr 69	Tiger Div	57	1,255	152.1 Tons	2,821

(2) The Capital ROK Infantry Division (GRID), 173d Airborne Brigade, and the 22d Division (ARVN) continued to be the major units supported by the battalion. The 4th Infantry Division has received substantial support from the CH-47 and CH-54 units. Numerous other support requirements were filled on a mission basis.

(3) The arrival of 238th AWC to An Khe increased the gunship support available to the battalion in the northern half of the AO. The primary mission assigned the 238th AWC is support of the Highway Coordinator providing aerial coverage on QL 19 from Qui Nhon to Pleiku.

(4) Operational results appear as Inclosure 2.

e. (C) Training:

(1) Because of the low experience level among newly assigned aviators and enlisted personnel, Training was an area of continuous command emphasis during the report period. All units publish weekly Training Schedules and conduct mandatory training as required. Training is integrated with operational requirements to the maximum degree possible.

(2) Standardization Instructor Pilots (SIP) conducted 90-day standardization flights as required. Areas of aviation training emphasized were: aircraft emergency procedures, crew duties and aviation safety.

(3) During the report period the following school quotas were filled:

(1) Observation. Under MTOE 1-77G, the intelligence NCU allocation has been removed from the Assault Helicopter Company, and the mission of the intelligence section has now been absorbed by operations.

(2) Evaluation. Due to the varied missions performed and the large area of operations of an assault helicopter company, the importance of an intelligence section cannot be over emphasized. The present work load of the company level operations does not allow sufficient time or personnel to maintain the needed intelligence data.

(3) Recommendation. Return the intelligence NCU to the TOE of an Assault Helicopter Company.

(4) Command Action. A recommendation to make this addition to the present MTOE is being processed.

b. (C) Operations. Utilization of Aircraft.

(1) Observation: The hours flown by units of the Battalion have increased out of proportion to loads carried and missions flown.

(2) Evaluation: With one Assault Helicopter Companies approaching 3000 hours a month and the Chinook and Crane flying hours rising, maintenance is becoming difficult and crew fatigue a problem. Debriefing of crews has revealed that often more aircraft are committed than are needed. Further, the receiving ground unit is often not prepared to use the aircraft at the time requested, i.e. a sling load not rigged for as much as two hours after the arrival of the lift aircraft.

(3) Recommendation. That using units justify the number of aircraft requested before mission can be approved and that tighter control be exercised by IFFV before approving mission requests.

(4) Command Action. Liaison Officers from Battalion have now been established at the headquarters of all major units supported.

c. (U) Training: None

d. (U) Intelligence: None

(2) Evaluation: The temporary loan authorizations have been extended two times and under present guidance it is doubtful that the authorization will be extended a third time. The authorization expires on 23 Oct 69. Efforts to obtain tabular authority under Tuy Hoa Detachment, QNSC TDA, have proven unsuccessful because the PHAAF perimeter lighting is an interior perimeter system and is considered tactical lighting.

(3) Recommendation: That PA&E or an organization with similar capabilities be assigned the mission supporting the fixed facilities such as mini-port releasing unit equipment and personnel for tactical use on the perimeter.

(4) Command Action: Request has been initiated to allow the Air Force at Tuy Hoa Air Base to turn over several excess generators to the Army for use at PHAAF.

f. (U) Organization: None

g. (U) Rescue Techniques:

(1) Observation: Personnel are not receiving sufficient training on rescue techniques and equipment.

(2) Evaluation: There have been two incidents in this reporting period where individuals have been killed falling off rescue hoists. A contributing factor each time was the person not being properly strapped in the hoist.

(3) Recommendation: That classes on rescue techniques using training films or demonstration be part of the in-country training given all personnel.

(4) Command Action: One demonstration of the jungle penetrator and electric hoist by the Air Force "Pedro" rescue helicopter has been held for all personnel at PHAAF. Further demonstrations are planned for units of the Battalion.

1. (U) This headquarters has reviewed the attached report, considers it to be adequate, and concurs with contents as stated, except as indicated below.

2. (C) The following comments and recommendations are submitted.

a. Section 1, Operations: Significant Activities:

(1) Paragraph 1c, Intelligence, Page 2: A more comprehensive intelligence picture could have been presented with just a few more details logically organized. Reporting the number of aircraft damaged by hostile action is considered appropriate. However, overcommitment of subordinate units, maintenance problems, and crew fatigue should not be commented on in this section. The objective of this paragraph is to present, in an organized manner, significant activities initiated by the enemy as well as those damages and casualties inflicted upon the enemy by Free World Military Forces.

(2) Paragraph 1g, Organization, Page 4: Reference to reorganization of the 134th AHC. Implementation instructions were received from the 1st Aviation Brigade in January 1969.

b. Section 2, Lessons Learned: Commander's Observations, Evaluations and Recommendations.

(1) Paragraph 2a, Intelligence NCO, Page 5: Concur. Command action is appropriate. Action will be considered upon receipt of proposed change to MTOE.

(2) Paragraph 2b, Utilization of Aircraft, Page 6: Concur. Misutilization of aviation assets has created significant difficulties during this reporting period. Studies conducted by this headquarters indicated the problem resulted because ground commanders and their staffs were not sufficiently knowledgeable in techniques of aviation employment. The problem, however, remains one of education rather than establishment of rigid controls. Mobile Training Teams have been organized at battalion level to conduct orientation of tactical commanders and their staff. Liaison officers have been placed with all major units to promote proper utilization of aviation resources. Emphasis has been placed on submission of Unsatisfactory Mission Reports to enable this headquarters to monitor and make recommendations for improved mission support to ground elements.

(3) Paragraph 2e, Perimeter Lighting, Page 6: Concur. Recommend that PA&E be tasked with responsibility to provide perimeter lighting for Phu Hiep Army Airfield and that the excess equipment at Tuy Hoa Air Force Base be obtained and provided to PA&E for use.

(4) Paragraph 2g, Rescue Techniques, Page 7: Concur. Orientation on rescue techniques should be included in Basic Combat Training for the individual soldier. A training film on survival was recently circulated to units of this command to facilitate familiarization with survival and rescue techniques. Recommend USARV establish requirement for rescue technique training as part of initial in-country orientation.

a. Paragraph 1j (2), page 5. Cumulative aircraft accident rate per 100,000 flying hours for the quarter should read 28.1 and not 18.0 as shown.

b. Paragraph 2e (1), page 6: Concur. Action being taken to transfer Air Force generators to the Army at Phu Hiep is a good solution. These generators should be 60 KW or more so that PA & E will provide the maintenance for them. Presently, there is a project to provide high voltage power at Phu Hiep, but this is being held on a stop work order pending the outcome of a classified study that is being made by Commanding General IFFV and Commanding General USAHV.
